Self-Cleaning

Let's be honest: everyone would love to have a pool in their backyards, but the thought of cleaning it isn't fun.

When you get a pool, you want to use it, not spend a lot of time keeping it sparkling clean. This is why you should consider a self-cleaning pool system.

This system is completely hands-free and keeps your pool in great shape. Your pool will always remain clean with zero effort on your part.

What Is a Self Cleaning Pool System?

A self-cleaning pool system is a cleaning technology that automatically removes debris and dirt from a swimming pool.

It's also called an in-floor cleaning system or a smart pool.

It uses cleaning heads situated strategically on the floor of the pool.

When the system gets activated, these cleaning heads pop up to circulate and filter the water, then pop back down when finished.

This process is fully automated, you can even swim while it runs.

How Effective Is a Self-Cleaning Pool System?

When you observe a self-cleaning pool system in action, you might question its efficiency.

It operates quietly and requires no pipes or additional gadgets.

So, how effective are these systems?

As with any technology, the proof lies in the data.

First, a self-cleaning pool system meticulously covers 99% of your pool.

Bayside Pools install pop-up cleaners in floor steps and benches, resulting in a more thorough cleaning process compared to other pool cleaning methods.

Second, a self-cleaning system utilizes up to 30% fewer chemicals for pool sanitation.

Instead of using large quantities of chemicals, this system relies on powerful water jets to direct debris towards the drain.

The circulation process remains consistent, including the heating of your pool.

In traditional systems, when water passes through the heat pump and returns to the pool, it remains concentrated at the top layer of the swimming pool, resulting in heat loss.

However, with a Bayside Pool self-cleaning system, water is evenly distributed throughout the pool, reducing heat loss.

Typically, Bayside Pool's self-cleaning system can save 30% on chemical consumption and reduce heating costs by 20 to 30% due to its superior circulation compared to traditional jet and skimmer systems.

The Q360 patented water valve is the heart of the Q360+ cleaning system. The proven track record of this ultra efficient valve delivers maximum flow with minimal noise and water pressure variations making it the performance leader in the industry.
